SUMMARY

Lead Full-Stack Developer with 5+ years of experience building SaaS products, CRM systems, public marketplaces, and SEO-driven web platforms. Experienced in leading engineering teams, mentoring developers, driving architectural decisions, and collaborating closely with stakeholders to deliver high-impact business solutions.

Currently leading development initiatives at SpeakerHub (PitchDB), where I oversee full-stack product development, team growth, hiring processes, sprint planning, and technical strategy. Strong expertise in React, Next.js, Node.js, TypeScript, PostgreSQL, AWS, and modern web architecture, with a track record of delivering scalable products that balance technical excellence with business objectives.

EXPERIENCES

SPEAKERHUB (PitchDB)

Lead Full-Stack Developer | 2023 – Present

- Lead development efforts across the SpeakerHub platform, collaborating with product stakeholders to define technical direction and deliver business-critical initiatives.
- Managed and mentored a team of up to 5 software engineers, conducting technical interviews, hiring processes, performance reviews, and ongoing career development support.
- Led sprint planning, task estimation, roadmap discussions, and cross-functional coordination between engineering and business stakeholders.
- Designed and implemented CRM features supporting speaker management, customer relationships, communication workflows, and operational processes.
- Architected and developed SEO-focused public directory experiences using Next.js, improving discoverability, performance, and user experience across thousands of publicly indexed pages.
- Built and maintained full-stack solutions using React, Next.js, Node.js, TypeScript, MongoDB, and cloud-based infrastructure.
- Integrated AWS services including S3 for asset storage and SES for transactional email delivery and communication workflows.
- Established engineering standards through code reviews, architectural decision-making, technical documentation, and best-practice adoption.
